Disclosing Disability and Employment Strategies for Conquering the Beast

Disclosing Disability

Training for people with disabilities on the employment quest.

This interactive workshop will review the factors to consider when making the determination of when and if to disclose disability. Participants will bring job descriptions in which they are interested and during break out sessions determine the essential functions, evaluate their own qualifications, and develop, and practice, interview questions for the job.

Employment: Strategies for Conquering the Beast

Training for job placement specialist developing business relations.

Many people are intimidated by the notion of working directly with employers in the community. This session will focus on strategies for "Conquering the Beast" including: networking strategies, information interviews, advice interviews, developing and fine-tuning that "pick-up line" and team approaches to community job development.
